The success of your window depends on the shades. Wright-Metzler shades are made of the finest material and are made without the "fading" that causes other shades to streak, wrinkle, fade and show so much of the window frame. ASSEMBLY FOR ROAD BONDS

Next Legislature to Pass $50,000,000 Issue in Prediction.

A canvass of the results of the recent election of members of the State Legislature justifies the announcement by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation that the newly elected Senators and Representatives are almost without exception, favorable to the proposed amendment to the constitution to permit the State to issue bonds up to $50,000,000 for the building of good roads. The Legislature of 1911 passed this amendment without a dissenting vote, and if it goes through the 1913 Legislature, it will be submitted to the people for final approval, next year.

The Federation finds that the comparatively few arguments attempted here and there against the bond proposition have been based on misapprehension, and have been virtually without effect. The attempts to make it appear that the bond issue will increase the tax burdens on farms and other real estate have failed because the people know that estate pays no State tax in Pennsylvania. The bulk of the State revenue is derived from corporations.

JOURNAL PRAISES B. & O.
Road Commended in Editorial for Improvement in Service.

In a trade journal, October 31, with reference to the physical condition, character of service and convenience of the Baltimore & Ohio toward the development of territory served by its lines, the following appeared:

"The energy with which the Baltimore & Ohio railroad during the last year or two has been developing its passenger traffic, as well as its freight business, is worthy of all commendation. Many years ago that road got into a reputation as a passenger road, its managers then had-failing to keep the road and the rolling stock abreast of the times.

"But since those days many millions of dollars have been expended in perfecting the physical condition of the road and enlarging its facilities for handling freight and passenger traffic. The men now responsible for its management are giving to the country tributary to this line one of the most splendidly constructed and equipped railroads in the country. They are, moreover, developing among its force an esprit de corps and an attention to the little things as well as the big things which add to the comforts of the passengers."

Cox, Jr., and the Independent Coal Company, at Mill Run, have continued to mine coal. Indian Creek valley is excluded over the situation.

Girls

Read About These Three Girls. How Sick They Were and How Their Health Was Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Appleton, Wis.—"I take pleasure in writing you an account of my sickness. I told a friend of mine how I felt and she said I had female trouble and advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she had taken it herself for the same trouble with wonderful results. I had been sick for two years and overworked myself, and had such bad feelings every month that I could hardly walk for pain. I was very nervous and easily tired out and could not sleep nights. I had dizzy spells, and pimples came on my face. But I have taken your Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored my health. I think it is the best medicine in existence."—Miss Cecelia M. Bauer, 1181 Lawrence St., Appleton, Wis.

A SCHOOL TEACHER'S GRATITUDE:
Geneva, Iowa.—"I have been teaching school for some years and I have neglected my health because I was too busy with my work to attend to myself properly. I suffered greatly every month and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. I wrote to you about my condition and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Blood Purifier as you recommended. These remedies have done wonders for me and I can highly and widely recommend them to every suffering woman."—Miss Minnie Shaver, R. F. D. No. 1, Geneva, Iowa, c/o Sam Erickson.

A COLORADO GIRL'S CASE:
Montrose, Col.—"I was troubled very much with irregular periods. Sometimes two months would elapse. I suffered severe headaches, was weak and nervous, could eat scarcely anything. I took both Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and the result was wonderful. I feel like another person. I think your remedies are the best on earth and cannot express my thankfulness to you for what they have done to me. I help my neighbors who they are sick, and I shall always recommend your medicines."—Miss Ella McCandless, Montrose, Col.

Is it not reasonable to suppose that a medicine that did so much for these girls will benefit any other girl who is suffering with the same troubles?

Does it not seem the only sensible thing to give such a medicine at least a trial? You may be sure that it can do you no harm, and there are lots of proof that it will do you much good.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for the ailments of women. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine, made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., LOWELL, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THURSDAY EVE'G., NOV. 14, 1912.

AUTOMOBILE RULING.

The rights of the automobile and the pedestrian are suddenly and significantly set forth in a ruling by Judge Sulzberger, of Philadelphia, a few days ago, in which he laid down the law as follows:

The owners and drivers of automobiles appear to believe that they have a preferential right of way over the highways of Philadelphia and that pedestrians have only a secondary right of way. The fact is, however, that the right of way is equally divided. The right of way of a steam railway is acquired mainly by purchase. Moreover, railroad trains travel on steel rails from which they do not swerve and the traveler knows exactly on what line the train travels. But the streets of the city have been built and purchased by the people of the city and they are the property of the people of the Commonwealth, to which the owners of automobiles have no more right than the pedestrians. The time has come to give importance to the rights of the pedestrian, not only to the unfortunate driver who, after all, are hired for the purpose of running at unlawful speed, but to the owners of machines who hire them for that unlawful purpose.

In the case which drew forth this opinion it was held that the owner of an automobile riding in it with his chauffeur is equally responsible with the latter for the results of fast running, even to the extent of involuntary manslaughter.

The Connelville Herald suggests that it might not be a bad idea for some of the owners of automobiles in this county to read this opinion and the suggestion is worthy of the consideration of Connelville auto-owners.

The pedestrian, too, may sit up and take notice. He will not, of course, try to butt the automobile, but he may, if his rights are not respected, he may make complaint to the courts. A few stiff fines will do more to reduce reckless driving than all the lectures that could be delivered in a season's engagement.

President-elect Wilson may be safe and business may not be so, but it is a fact that steel and iron specifications and quotations do not extend beyond the coming midsummer. We may not need any tariff protection, but it looks as if tariff revision should not proceed with utter recklessness, dividing the nation, but that could be delivered in a season's engagement.

It is hard to understand how there should be so much hatred and animosity between South Connelville Socialists and Bull Moosers.

The announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad will spend $2,000,000 for improvement of the Altoona would seem to indicate that the Mountain City still has a claim on its railroad shops.

The B. & O. trackmen who ate the cow killed on the track instead of buying the animal had a proper appreciation of the high cost of living.

McClure, author's annual earn show us how good a business is. Dainties and cake were baked.

A Westmoreland county farmer was confronted by a bear the other day, and it has not yet been officially determined who was the most scared.

The Presidents of the Pennsylvania Railroad set a good example. They never fear to be criticized, and they don't try to hang on forever.

The new President of the Pennsylvania Railroad is an all-around man, and no department of the road will be able to fool him. Much should be learned and unlearned enough to try.

The Fayette county farmers will discuss a Socialist at their next meeting and will determine whether they are going to accept it. Their decision will be awaited with interest, but the result will not be long.

The other day a girl who shot her father when he took to be a criminal is to be paid more than $10,000.

The Town Council should never forget that it has the power to compel the laying of proper sidewalks, and that it is frequently an imperative duty to exercise that power.

Everything may not come to everybody who waits, but a quorum usually comes to the Town Council if it adjourns often enough.

The South Side and the West Side had a successful evening's fishing in the Connelville Fork Bar! this week. Each pulled out a street paving job.

The paid firemen will have proper uniforms. As we approach 1913 we acquire a few more city airs to fit in the city atmosphere.

The Democratic roster is growing while it can. Let the old bird enjoy itself. The Republican is not lost. It is merely laid away.

Salt river tickets are much in evidence. This particular transportation line is not under Government regulation. Everybody travels on passes.

"Safety First" is getting popular as a rule of conduct. We commend it to the victorious Democrats, and especially to the President-elect.

The railroad men want more wages. The railroads want higher rates and the consumer is wondering who pays the freight.

The Union Supply Company Stores Handle Only Specials.

Take our shoe departments for instance: Every pair we handle is made especially for us, and orders are given the manufacturers months in advance. We have already placed our orders for shoes for our next spring business. Think of that! Six months in advance. The fall and winter shoes we are selling you now, were contracted for almost a year ago; they were bought when the market was low; an average of 15c per pair less than we can buy the same goods for today. And you, our customers, are getting the benefit of it. Now remember, every pair of shoes we have for men, for women, for children, ever down to the tiniest baby's shoes, are made especially for us according to our specifications. THAT IS WHY WE GUARANTEE THEM without any hesitation. That is one reason why we know that you are getting the best shoes that can be produced; that is why you can wear a Union Supply Company shoe so much longer than the goods any other dealer puts out. We want to call special attention to the extraordinary good values in men's working shoes for engineers, diplomats, yardmen, roadmen in mines, haulers, pumpers, miners, etc. Everybody knows that mine work is hard on shoes, sulphur is particularly hard on them, yet we are selling a class of shoes that lasts six months, nine months and even a year, continuous wear, at this price. We want also to call your attention to our very excellent shoes for boys, knock-a-hoofs, everyday play or work shoe; good fitting; good wearing; medium priced. We can say the same for the girls'. For the women, we also have very desirable stylish, specially made for our trade, good fitting, good wearing shoes, and moderate in price. The very large quantity we sell is the best evidence in the world, that our goods are alright.

Union Supply Company Special Goods; Specially Made In the Furniture Departments.

You are aware that every Union Supply Company store has a furniture department. Our terms are cash, yet to accommodate some of our customers, we do some installment business. When we sell on installment, we do it as an accommodation, and we do not charge advanced prices for that accommodation; bear that in mind. Our furniture departments just now are overflowing with all sorts of staples and novelties; made especially for our trade. We can outfit your house completely from kitchen to attic; dining room; library; parlor; bedroom furniture; from the lowest grade to the most expensive. It doesn't cost a large amount of money to outfit a house comfortably; really it is surprising what a nice class of furniture and other household goods you can get from the Union Supply Company at moderate prices. Many people from the surrounding towns and farmers in the vicinity of our stores buy furniture from us; often we equip new houses complete, and every time our customers are quite sure they are saving money. The house furnishings consist of quite varieties of carpets, rugs, matting, linoleum, mattresses, bed clothing of all sorts, pillows, pillow slips, sheets. You cannot think of any household article that the Union Supply Company cannot furnish. We are contracting for these goods all the time. Daily consignments are arriving at our stores. The furniture and house furnishing is one of our most popular departments. The class of goods we sell; the terms we give; the low prices we name, and the prompt courteous treatment we give, all attract and draw the people, not only to our furniture departments, but to every department in our stores.

The Hand Resting on the Major's Shoulder.

It was a huge, bare hall, although the walls were concealed by burlap, while other draperies were festooned along the rafters. The band was stationed upon a raised platform at the rear, and a hundred couples occupied the floor. The men present were largely officers attired in dress uniforms, although there was a considerable sprinkling of civilians, a few conspicuous in garments of the latest cut. The women, dressed in fashions that had been widely spread, and in all time and place, liberally responded to. Among the women present the Sergeant saw very few he recognized, yet it was comparatively easy to classify the majority—officers' wives; the frontier helpmates of the more prominent merchants of the town, women from the surrounding ranches, who had deserted their homes until the Indian war season, and selected their mates from pretentious small cities, and the enlisted and here and there younger facers representing ranchmen's daughters, with a school teacher or two. Altogether they made rather a brave show occasionally exhibiting toilet worthy of a finer place, never lacking ardor and enthusiasm and entering with unalloyed enthusiasm into the evening's pleasure. The big room presented a scene of brilliant color, of ceaseless moving figures, of music that was resonant with laughter and trembling to the swaying motion of the band. Primitive as it was in many respects, to staid, long isolated in

William, an immaculately dressed individual with ruddy, boyish face. His intense admiration of his partner was plainly evident, and the girl, simply dressed in white, her cheeks glowing with the excitement of the moment, told Hamilton cool nerves throbbing. "He could not resist gazing at her, and as their eyes met, she bowed, the full red lips parting in a smile of recognition. There was no reservation, no restraint in that quick greeting, a smile which, by, he could not fail to comprehend its full significance, and he forgot. When he imagined he reached in her face swept all else from his mind instantly and, with eager eyes, he followed her slight, girlish gait as they circled the hall. The music ceased and he still watched as she had led her to a seat, himself sinking into a chair beside her. Then the pressing of her hand, the desire to tell her own truths, claimed his attention. When the last of these had disappeared, he glanced again in her direction. She was alone, and her youthful partner was walking toward him across the deserted floor. The lady came to the door, which by now contained few loiterers, and stood there a moment gazing out into the street."

"Any Sergeant Hamilton?" he asked quietly.

"Yes."

"Miss McDonald requested me to hand you this note unobserved and have no knowledge of its contents."

Hamilton felt the flutter of the paper in his palm and stood silent, clinging to it, as the other carelessly re-crossed the room. She was looking toward him, but he made no motion to urse the music until his eyes, searching the room, came to rest on the blond point. The very essence of duty made him cautious made him suspicious. He had to do with that woman. She was beside the bandstand, still conversing with the Major, apparently oblivious to any other presence, her face turned aside. Assured of this, he opened the paper, and glanced at the few hastily scribbled lines.

"I trust you, and you must believe me, I do not wish to cause. During the investigation, he in the hotel man-

There were two more dances scheduled on the program. The last of these had begun before the infantry sergeant returned, and, apologizing for his long absence, resumed his duties at the door. Across the room, the Hamlin eyes met those of Miss McDaniel, where she danced with an unknown officer, then he turned and showed his way to the street. The hotel opposite was all bustle and confusion, the bar-room crowded with the thirty energetic waiters who had rushed about the hall completing their preparations. The sergeant, intent on his purpose, did not notice the band that crashed playing, looked past these and entered the parlor. It was already occupied by four men, who were playing cards at a small, round table and smoking vigorously, entirely engrossed in their game. None of them so much as glanced up and the intruder hesitated an instant, quickly determining his course of action. There was little choice left. The girl would never make an appointment with him except through necessity, and he was bound by his duty to protect her from observation. Two of the men sitting there were strong, but the others he knew merely by sight, a tinhorn gambler called Charlie, and the sutler's clerk. His decision was swift.

and characteristic

Right or wrong there was plainly no use continuing the argument, for Ramon's fingers were upon the butt of his revolver, and his eyes hardened at the delay. The gambler's inclination was to let this summary dismissal pass with a glance, but his brow convulsed him, so he would have to play the hand alone, so he yielded reluctantly, swept the chips into the side pocket of his coat and departed leaving behind him a trail of profanity. The Sergeant smiled but remained motionless until they disappeared.

"The bluff works," he thought so freely, "unless they make a kick at the office some peevish Charlie was to." He stepped over to the window and held back the curtain. A burly figure occupied the bench with feet upon the rail. Even in that outside dimness could be distinguished a black beard. The very man, and the Sergeant chuckled grimly with a swiftly born hope that the fellow might create a row. Nothing at that moment could have pleased him more. He blew out the parlor light partially closed the door, and stepped forth on to the porch.

"Say, you," he said gruffly, dropping one hand heavily on the other's shoulder. "Did you hear what I said to those fellows inside? Well, it goes out here the same. Pack up, and clear the deck."

Ten Reasons Why

It is absolutely the only Appliance of the kind on the market today that has been used by so many inventors have sought after for years.

The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of possibility.

Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body and does not cause irritation.

Unlike the ordinary re-called made in the United States, it is sumbersome or unsightly and is not so comfortable, and negatively cannot be detected through the clothing.

The only reliable bands holding the Appliance do not give one the unpleasant sensation of wearing a bandage.

There is nothing about it to produce heat, and it is so light that it can be washed without injuring it.

There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by chafing the skin.

All of the material of which it is made is of the highest quality and costs more than money can buy, making it durable and safe Appliance to wear.

Its popularity is so great that the year's dealing is so thoroughly established that the prices are so reasonable, my traders are so numerous, and the demand is so constant, in sending free compensation.

MR. IAN ROBERTSON IN "THIRD FLOOR BACK" TONIGHT.

It is given to few people and, strangely enough, least of all to practised players, quite to forget, when following a story told upon the stage, that the man who plays the hero with such fidelity to life, or the woman who inspires one to fresh and greater admiration of her sex, may be very different beings on the boards. At times it may be difficult to believe it, but there must always be a doubt in the minds of those who only know the actor or the actress in their makeup, as to what degree the impression they give for good or bad is due to fine acting or the subtle influence of their own personality.

It was, therefore, somewhat in the nature of a surprise—but a very agreeable one—to our representative to find in culture on Mr. Ian Robertson that in actual life he is nothing more or less than the placid, gentle and philosophic friend of Mr. Jerome's wonderfully symbolic play, with the silver wig and the flowing Inverness discarded.

"THE SPRING MAID." Only once in a decade do producing managers secure a musical success which outruns its first season on the road. In the case of "The Spring Maid" Werba and Luescher are making theatrical history, for the Viennese light opera is now in its third season and wherever it has been presented has played to even greater receipts than in the past. One reason for this is the fact that it is still under the management of the original producers who have maintained the standard of perfection set when "The Spring Maid" was first produced for two seasons during its phenomenal run at the Liberty theatre. Another reason is the team-work on the part of the members of the organization, every element from the orchestra and the chorus down to the humblest chorus girl being enthusiastic and ambitious to keep up the quality of performances. Usually a return date adds the opera house public less responsive and with return dates of this bubbling opera audiences have been lulled over the charm of the dainty piece itself and the work of those who sing its delightful music. Of the second engagement in Grand Rapids the Herald said: "It is not often that the return of a captivating opera retains the same enjoyment and the same pleasure in each tuneful music number as on first visit. Therefore, when it is stated that 'The Spring Maid' is one of the blessed exceptions because it is all more charming than before, 'The Spring Maid' is charmingly set and the scenery is fresh and unspoiled by travel. The production is at all times thoroughly capable and there is no fault to be found anywhere."

"The Spring Maid" will be heard at the Soisson theatre, matinee and night, Saturday, Nov. 15.

THE COLONIAL.

"ALLAS JIMMY VALENTINE." "Allas Jimmy Valentine," famous detective-thief play, will be seen here Saturday, matinee and night. The play has a record of two years at Wallack's theatre, New York City. Paul Armstrong, the author of "Allas Jimmy Valentine," received his inspiration from that exceedingly interesting short story writer, Edgar Allan Poe, out of whose short story, "A Retrieved Reformation," he has elaborated a consistent plot, with an exceedingly interesting series of incidents.

Before the play opens Jimmy Valentine has saved a lovely girl, Rose Lane, from an attacking ruffian. He came upon her in a parlor car, struggling alone with the brute, promptly fell upon him and threw him out the moving train, treatment which culminated in the man's death. The girl's imagination has been fired and has played around Jimmy's heroism and attractive personality until she has only man the world for her. She does not know his name nor his whereabouts until she comes upon him in Stag King, where he is "doing time" for the robbery of a bank. She, with her uncle, the Lieutenant-Governor of the State, and two women representing the Gals of Hope Society, which is looking toward "the release of all innocent prisoners from all the prisons in the world," are visiting the prison in the interests of the cause. Jimmy protests that he is innocent, though to those on the inside he is the only man in the country who can open a safe by the delivery of his touch. Through the strict policy he is able to tell, and the girl's plea, the Lieutenant-Governor has his sympathy sufficiently aroused to secure his pardon. Then follows a story of love requited.

THE OLYMPIC.

THE GIRL FROM WYOMING. Miss Alberta Clare, better known as "The Girl From Wyoming," who completed a 19,000 mile ride at Buffalo, N. Y., last April, was expected to arrive at the office of The Courier at noon today.

Miss Clare is but four feet, 11 inches tall in her riding boots, but what she lacks in size she more than makes up in courage. "Nickle," a large black, shaggy dog, half-wolf and half-Newfoundland, is the only companion of this daring young woman, and will run by her side as she comes riding into Connellsville in typical Western costume. Miss Clare will appear at the Olympic theatre this afternoon and night.

TROLLEY LOOP ASKED LATROBE.

West Penn Wants Franchise to Better Service in Borough.

The West Penn Company wants to loop the loop in Latrobe. The company wants to make an arrangement whereby the shifting of trolley poles may be avoided at the terminal and the cars taken past the barns. To achieve these ends, the company has asked Latrobe Council for a franchise on Walnut street, extending from Ligonier to Jefferson, and on Jefferson from Walnut to the car barns. In return for the franchise the company would agree to pay pole tax and to comply with the customary stipulations as to paving between the rails and 18 inches on the outside.

Taft Fixes Panama Tolls.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Taft last night issued a proclamation fixing the rates that the foreign shipping of the world shall pay for passage through the Panama Canal. The proclamation made under authority of the Canal Act, passed by Congress in August, establishes a merchant vessel rate of $1.25 per net ton of actual carrying capacity, with a reduction of 40 per cent on ships in ballast. American coastwise shipping was exempted from paying toll by Congress. It was to this provision of the act that Great Britain diplomatically protested.
